Goat in a Boat Story Time

“I see a goat in a boat” said Tyler as he walked along the shore with his dad.

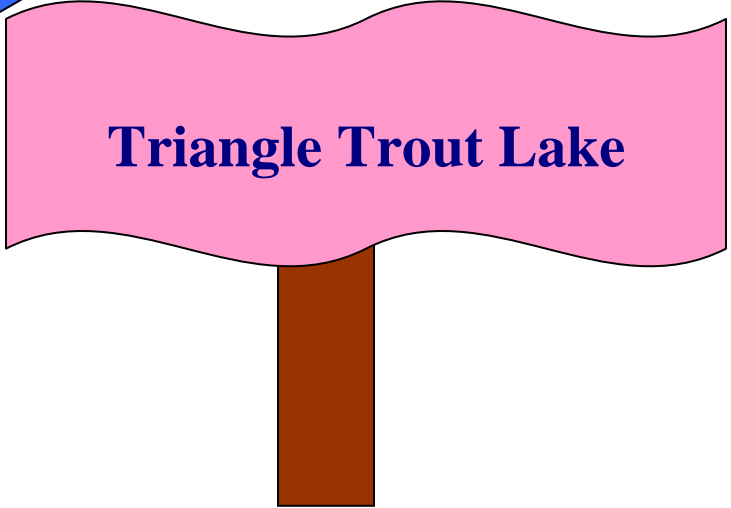

“A goat in a boat?” his dad asked. “That’s a silly sight to see”.

Sure enough when Tyler’s dad looked out at the water, there was a goat in a boat sailing along Triangle Trout Lake with his triangle sail up in the air.

“That silly old Billy goat” said Tyler.

Tyler and his dad kept on walking along the shore.

“Look dad” Tyler shouted excitedly, “Now I see the goat drinking a root beer float while sitting in his boat”.

Over at the “Triple Triangle Treat” ice cream parlor was a goat sitting in his boat drinking a root beer float.

“Imagine that, a goat drinking a float in a boat. This is a sillier sight to see than a goat in a boat” said Tyler’s dad.

The two of them decided to have triple scoop ice cream on a triangle cone – the house special with chocolate, vanilla and strawberry ice cream.

After they ate their triple scoop ice cream cones, Tyler and his dad decided to walk over the bridge across the moat to see the great pyramid.

“Hey dad” Tyler said, “There’s the goat in the moat still drinking his float while in his boat”.

Tyler’s dad looked down and there was the boat with the goat drinking his root beer float in the moat. “This is surely the silliest sight to see, a goat in a boat drinking a float while in the moat” said Tyler’s dad.

After seeing the pyramids, Tyler and his dad headed home.

As they got to their car Tyler cried out "Dad, there's the goat carrying his boat out of the moat still drinking his root beer float and putting on his coat."

Tyler's dad looked in amazement and said "I thought I had seen the silliest sight ever when I saw the goat drinking his float in his boat on the moat, but seeing a goat wearing a coat - that has got to be the silliest, strangest sight I have ever seen!"

Just then the silly old Billy goat carrying his boat out of the moat while drinking his float wearing his coat looked over at Tyler and his dad and waved goodbye.
